

Meet Your Family Medicine Provider

M. Lennie Q. Baisa, MD

My interest in medicine began only when I was an undergraduate student. I really was not sure what I would like to be. I did know what I liked to do — finding out why something is not working well, why it sounds different, or in short, why something is not what it is supposed to be. So I thought I would be a mechanical engineer. However dealing with an inanimate object does not sound very appealing to me. A person can interact with me and help me find the answer.
