

Meet Your Family Medicine Physician

Aasma Ahmed, MD

Why I Became a Medical Provider

"I come from a family of doctors, so it kind of came naturally to me. Two of my sisters are physicians, and my dad is a physician too. He has been the biggest inspiration in my life and motivated me to become a physician. It is truly wonderful to see how passionate he still is about medicine. He is the most honest and skilled ophthalmologist I know."

Residency

Hunterdon Medical Center, Flemington, NJ

MD

King Edward Medical University, Lahore, Pakistan

Certification

Board Certified in Family Medicine

Professional Memberships

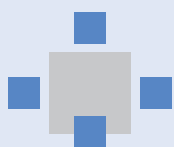

American Academy of Family Physicians, Illinois Academy of Family Physicians

Department of Family Medicine

In the Department of Family Medicine, Dr. Ahmed treats non-surgical illnesses or disorders from infancy through adulthood and promotes wellness care for patients of all ages.

I love to read in my free time and spend time with my family. I have a son and a daughter, and the free time I have is spent with them and my husband.

I believe that after our residency training in the U.S. we all are, more or less, at the same level. The thing that sets us apart is how much we care for our patients and how compassionate we are. When a patient walks in my clinic, I want them to feel that yes, I do care and will do everything that I can as a physician to help them.
